

- 31 -

[ABSTRACT]

The orientation of an image such as a radiographic image is deduced s from the digital representation of the image.

In one embodiment the curvature is calculated and a decision on the orientation of the image is obtained on the basis of the value of the calculated curvature.